Main channel: Facebook

Main keywords:

Monument, Neo-Nazism, USA, Railbaltica,
Ukraine, Patriotism, Biden, Budget, Latvian language

Main narratives:

- General anti-government sentiments;
- Questioning the country's security;
- Creating the divisions between politicians and "ordinary" citizens;
- Scepticism towards NATO functionality;
- The incompetence of the current government.

Overview:

In the reporting week, there were posts that focused on sowing distrust in the USA and President Biden, as well as Russophobia shown in the vandalism of statues and monuments, and a post about the war in Ukraine and protecting Russian speakers from harm in the war from Ukraine. There were also anti-government sentiments, which focused on the budget, elections, and an article about a supposed new law in Latvia where those who don't speak Latvian would be required to hire a translator for medical issues.
